INDIAN VILLAGE THEME DINNER

"RAJPUT WEDDING STYLE" (A traditional Rajput Wedding Ceremony where the group members participate as the Baraat" (The Bridegroom's family and friends who form the wedding party) and the Brides Party. The Baarat Party arrives with a local band, complete with "Mashaals" (Torches). The hosts (Bride's Party) receive the baraat party and the wedding ceremony is performed under a decorated "Mandap" (Pavilion). The "Meena Bazaar" (A Colorful bazaar for the ladies) also forms an integral part of the setting. A festive buffet meal, laid out for both the parties in the illuminated Palace Hotel, is accompanied by music and folk dances. Also accompanying the ceremony is the traditional Mehendi" (Henna) application for the ladies, which is considered auspicious at the time of an Indian Wedding).
